7800 Series

UP FOR ANY TASK.

The 7800 Series is ergonomically engineered for time-intensive work. Whether used in a workstation setting or supporting multiple workers in a collaborative area, the fully customizable comfort is excellent for a full range of work activities and areas within a space. The built-in lumbar support provides long-lasting comfort for even the longest days at the office, and the adjustable arms reduce stress on the upper body and neck. The wave-formed seat cushion and sculpted curvilinear back are designed to cradle users and promote healthier postures. Regardless of which model you choose, the 7800 Series brings greater comfort and productivity to every workday.
